BOARD ABANDONS PEACE EFFORTS

SIX HUNDRED MORE MINERS CALLED OUT NO REASON ASSIGNED

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., July 20—Six hundred coal miners in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, who have been permitted to work since the national coal miners' strike that began April 1, were today ordered out on strike by John Wilkinson, president of district 21, United Mine Workers of America. These men have been working at mines engaged in supplying hospitals, ice companies and public utilities with fuel in the three states which comprise the district.

Wilkinson's order came from Indianapolis to Secretary-Treasurer Eugene Ross and was immediately communicated to all members of the district executive board. It was not accompanied by any explanation.

Most of the coal produced in Oklahoma for utilities comes from the Henryetta field.

WM. ALLEN WHITE DEFIES THE KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT

POSTS PLACARD IN WINDOW EXPRESSING SYMPATHY WITH STRIKERS.

GOVERNOR'S REPLY OF A HUMOROUS NATURE

Noted Editor Says Order Is Infamous Infraction On Free Press and Free Speech.

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, KAN., July 20—"Henry and me," the one governor Henry J. Allen and other William Allen White, close friends for many years, fellow travelers, both with national reputations as publicists and editors, co-workers overseas during the world war, and two of the chief political leaders of Kansas, today differed materially. The Kansas court of industrial relations of which Governor Allen was the chief sponsor, was the point of dissension.

Mr. White, publisher of the Emporia Gazette, rising to a point of personal privilege, posted in the window of his newspaper office a placard espousing the cause of the striking railway shopmen and expressing sympathy for their announced stand for "living wages and fair conditions." Mr. White had been told that the state attorney had ruled that such displays were in violation of the industrial and anti-syndicalism law.

"The order of the industrial court is an infamous infraction of the right of free press and free speech," Mr. White asserted. He proclaimed 49 per cent sympathy with the strikers and said he would add one per cent a day as long as the strike was continued.

"We all know Bill," said Governor Allen, the "Henry" of Mr. White's book, "The Martial Adventures of Henry and Me," written after their return from overseas. "If he insists on being funny we will have to do something about it."

Further than that Governor Allen would not commit himself.

Richard J. Hopkins, attorney general, was somewhat more emphatic in his statement, although he did not say that Mr. White would be arrested at once.

"One who encourages lawlessness in Kansas by advocating it is himself violating the law and therefore is subject to arrest," said the attorney general.

Governor Allen was elected to office while he still was overseas and without having campaigned. He succeeded the new Senator Arthur Capper. Governor Allen already was prominent as the publisher of the Wichita Beacon and lately has come into the public eye through his ardent defense of the industrial relations law and campaign for midwest waterways.

PRESIDING JUDGE TAKES HAND IN CONTROVERSY

TOPEKA, KAN., July 20.—W. L. Huggins, presiding judge of the Kansas court of industrial relations, took a hand in the game of "Henry and Me" today, and in a statement to the press took to task both the other principals, Governor H. J. Allen, who declared the display of strike-sympathy posters was a violation of the industrial court law, and William Allen White, Emporia author and editor, who has displayed such a poster in his office window.

Judge Huggins asserts that Governor Allen is mistaken in his interpretation of the law and that Mr White gave an erroneous impression by stating that "the order of industrial court is an infamous infraction of the right of free press and free speech." Judge Huggins said the industrial court is not responsible for any order for the removal of the strike posters

Judge Huggins went to Emporia today and said he intends to put his friend, Mr. White, straight in the matter." He is allowed to be either 48 per cent or 99 per cent in sympathy with the strikers," declared Judge Huggins "and in my opinion, displaying posters indicating one's sympathy for the strikers is not a violation of the industrial court act."

Judge J. A. McDermott of the industrial court said the court had issued no order regarding the posters, this issue involving the criminal provisions of the industrial court act, enforcement thereof being up in law enforcement officials and the attorney general, acting as the interpreter of these provisions, he said

Attorney General R. J. Hopkins issued a statement last night declaring the displaying of strike posters represented a violation

"I believe Mr White is wrong in the matter" said Judge McDermott "In the first place he misinterpreted the meaning of free speech, and again, he is lending his moral support to an unlawful act and thereby creating an atmosphere in favor of an violation

DUBLIN, July 20—A statement issued today by the Irish provisional government on the military situation says the national army forces now are supreme in the whole of 12 counties.

"They still have opposition to deal with," it says. "In Donegal and Sligo and some harder work to do in Galway, Limerick and Tipperary, while Waterford, Cork and Mayo are in subjection to the irregulars. The term subjection is used advisedly, for in these counties the people are overwhelmingly in favor of the Anglo-Irish treaty".

DISCORDANT HOME LIFE IN AMERICA IS CHARGED

NEW YORK, July 20.—The homes of America are in chaos because of divorce and lack of Christian teaching among families, according to a report of the joint commission on homes of the Episcopal church to be presented to the forty-seventh triennial general conference in September at Portland, Ore., and made public here.

The report, which is signed by some of the most distinguished bishops, ecclesiastics and laymen of the church, speaks of "the broken, discordant home life of the American people, the frightful dissolution of the marriage tie going on in America and its inevitable consequence of race suicide," and declares the only remedy is to be found "in Christian training alone."

LEWIS HAS STATEMENT ON PLAN OF GOVERNOR

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Advised that Governor Groesbeck of Michigan contemplated state operation of the coal mines, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today made this comment:

"If the governor of Michigan desires to employ any coal miners in connection with his efforts to operate mines in Michigan he will find that the state, like any other employer, first has to make satisfactory arrangements with the United Mine Workers."

White house and other federal officials declined to discuss the governor's course in advance of receipt of the telegram

APPROVE PLANS FOR AN ADDITIONAL TRACK

WASHINGTON, July 20—Santa Fe railroad plans to secure construction of an additional main track line between Eldorado and Ellinor, Kan., were approved today by the I. C. C. The project will cost $2,917,000 and will involve laying 42¾ miles of new line, cutting off 16.35 miles of the distance traversed by the present Santa Fe main line in crossing the state

To handle the construction work a new company known as the Eldorado and Santa Fe will be created with a capital stock valued at $50,000, all of which will be held by the Santa Fe. In addition the Santa Fe will lend its subsidiary sufficient sums to accomplish the work and will lease the new line when completed.

The route of the new cut off main track will be from Bazar to Eldorado, Kansas, a distance of 38 miles. A belt line also will be constructed around the city of Eldorado and other trackage will be laid making an additional 5½ miles. The commission said that the general result of the plan would decrease Santa Fe operating costs and reduce the mileage over which it is necessary to haul freight and passengers on transcontinental movements

DEVELOPMENTS IN COAL CONTROVERSY SHIFTED TO MINES

AWAIT REPLIES OF A FEW OF GOVERNORS NOT HEARD FROM.

OPERATORS ARE NOW RETURNING TO HOMES

Lewis Leaves Washington Declaring Attitude of the Miners Is Unchanged.

By Associated Press

HILLSBORO, ILL., July 20.—There is no prospect of an immediate resumption of coal production in Illinois, Rice Miller, president of the Illinois Coal Operators association, told the Associated Press on his arrival home today from Washington, where he attended the coal operators' conference.

WASHINGTON, July 20—The center of developments in the coal strike was steadily shifting today away from Washington and out into the coal fields where the policy of the government involving reopening of the mines under state or federal protection will be tested.

Responses were yet to come from several governors to President Harding's appeal for cooperation in insuring the nation's fuel supply but white house officials expressed gratification over the responses thus far received. Only Governor Morrison of North Carolina of the 19 governors who had replied up to noon today refused absolutely the cooperation the president asked, it was pointed out by officials. The nine governors who have not yet replied were expected to send in their response within the next 24 hours, but officials recognized that conditions in some of the states made necessary full consultation by the governors with their advisers before they could give definite answers.

Most of the operators who came to Washington to participate in the settlement conference called by President Harding but which failed, have returned or were on their way home today hearing with them the president's invitation to reopen their mines with the labor that applied for work.

John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers and leader in the strike, was preparing to leave Washington during the day after having been in Washington continuously for nearly a month in conferences with government officials and operators.

"The mine workers' attitude is unchanged," said Mr. Lewis before leaving "Our people are determined to continue the strike until the principle of collective bargaining and past procedure in the industry are recognized.

"Our ranks are unbroken and will continue so. The threat of military operation will not alter the principles at stake nor bring any satisfactory results to the suffering public."

Referring to the repeated suggestion that the miners' union might now call out the pumpmen and maintenance workers guarding the idle mines in the union districts, Mr. Lewis said.

"The miners will continue to act in a law abiding manner but under no circumstances will any of our maintenance men continue to work with strikebreakers or in mines whose tipples are flanked with machine guns or artillery units."

AWAIT INDICATION OF EFFORT TO OPEN MINES

WASHINGTON, July 20—The government today awaited first indication of the result of the effort to reopen coal mines and further responses from governors called on by President Haring to cooperate to that end. Officials showed increasing concern over the continued falling off in coal production, particularly at nonunion mines, due to inadequate car supply. The curtailment emphasized in the official view the corelation in effect at least of the walkout of railroad shopmen and the coal strike.

With responses received up to early today from about 20 of the state executives that from Governor Morrison of North Carolina was the only one declining support of the federal administration's position Stating that in the absence so far as he knew of any strike trouble in the mining industry of that state there was no occasion to invite miners to return to work, Governor Morrison added that he "would not do so anyway." Governor Trinkle of Virginia made no comment on the government's position, merely stating there was no strike in that state and mine operations continued.

Member organizations of the chamber of commerce of the United States were called upon in a letter today from Julius H. Barnes, president, to take active steps in support of the government's position

LOS ANGELES, July 20—Mrs. Clara Phillips, indicted for the murder here last week of Mrs Alberta Meadows, today entered a plea of not guilty and her case was set for trial in the superior court on September 18 The defense asked more time, but the judge said he thought two months was long enough for preparation

LOS ANGELES, July 20—Filing of a demurrer to the indictment charging her with the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows was a prospect at the pleading here today of Mrs Clara Phillips, accused of beating the young widow to death with a hammer. Her attorneys said if the demurrer was overruled a plea of "not guilty" would be entered

Expectations were that insanity would form the basis of the defense, her counsel hinting at the customary double defense in cases where insanity bars a conviction for murder—"she did not do it, and if she did, she was insane when she did it."

CHARLIE BRYAN IS LEADING TICKET IN NEBRASKA CONTEST

LATE RETURNS IN HIS FAVOR IN THE RACE FOR GOVERNOR.

REPUBLICAN CONTEST IS STILL UNDECIDED

Hitchcock and Howell Increase Their Leads For Nomination For U. S. Senate.

OMAHA, NEB., July 20.—Charles H. Randall of Randolph went ahead of Adam McMullen of Beatrice by one vote in the republican gubernatorial race here today when 1,802 of the 1,913 precincts in the state were tabulated. The vote stood: Randall, 48,389; McMullen, 48,388.

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, NEB., July 20—The republican gubernatorial nomination was in doubt early today after 1701 of the state's 1913 precincts had been tabulated by the Associated Press.

Adam McMullen of Beatrice was leading Charles H. Randall of Randolph by 217 votes, gained on late returns last night. The late lead of McMullen came largely from his home and surrounding counties. The vote stood: McMullen, 45,275; Randall, 45,058. Two other candidates, Albert H Byrum and George W. Sterling, were trailing a poor third and fourth, respectively.

Returns from 1,685 precincts gave Charles W. Bryan of Lincoln, brother of William J. Bryan, a comfortable lead over Dan B. Butler of Omaha, for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. The vote stood: Bryan 25,476, Butler 25,052.

Almost every return for the past 24 hours has served to slowly but surely build up a big lead for R. B Howell, republican national committeeman. Mr. Howell, who ran on a progressive business platform and who has declared himself opposed to the administration ship subsidy bill and the Esch-Cummins act and in favor of a government merchant marine, commanded a lead of more than 13,000 votes over Congressman Albert W. Jefferis, his nearest opponent, who campaigned as a conservative republican Attorney General Clarence A. Davis was running third The vote gave: Howell 37,330, Jefferis 24,290, Davis 23,671.

Mr Howell in a statement to the Associated Press said that the campaign was in accordance with the character of the people of Nebraska and the result of the primary was largely an economic expression. He said the people of Nebraska were opposed to the idea of elimination of competition in railroad rates as is provided in the Esch-Cummins act and are as opposed to a radical tariff as they are to free trade Nebraskans, said Mr Howell, have come to regard prohibition as an economic measure and to regard the movement for light wines and beers, if successful, an end to the unquestioned advantages which the state has enjoyed under the eighteenth amendment.

Senator Gilbert M Hitchcock of Omaha had an overwhelming majority over his two opponents, A. T. Manahan of Omaha, and J O. Shroyer of Humbolt, on returns from 1588 precincts. The vote was: Hitchcock 45,294, Shoyer 14,831; Manahan 9,090.

Charles W. Beal of Broken Bow, was nominated for the regular term as democratic candidate for congress in the sixth district, as well as the party's candidate in November to fill the vacancy created by the death of Representative Moses P Kinkaid.

His republican opponent for the regular term of office will be Robert G. Simmons of Scotts Bluff, returns indicated. Mr. Beal's republican opponent for the short term could not be definitely announced.

POLICEMEN WITH RIOT GUNS GUARD THE STREET CARS

BUFFALO N. Y., July 20—Policemen armed with riot guns and under orders to shoot to kill if rioting develops, rode the 71 street cars which started out from the car barns today following a warning by Mayor Schwab to striking car men that further rioting would have serious consequences

Two hand grenades were exploded last night on the roof of the Gold Spring car barns, tearing holes in the building, but injuring none of the 75 strike breakers living in the barn.

Crowds were busy all night placing obstructions on the car tracks in the east side section which were the hot beds of yesterday's rioting. The mobs' procedure yesterday was to stop a car by means of an obstruction on the track and then bombard it with stones or storm it and attack the car men inside

State troopers were ordered here today for strike duty from various points.

COMMITTEE PLANS REPORT ON GERMAN FINANCIAL STATUS

RULERS ALONE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PRESENT INDUSTRIAL CRISIS.

FRENCH HAVE PREPARED AN EXHAUSTIVE REPORT

Will Urge That They Are Not Entitled to Moratorium on Reparations.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 20.—The guarantees committee of the reparations commission arriving from Berlin late last night, was expected to report today its investigation of Germany's financial status to Premier Poincare and to the commission

Although the committee was confronted with difficulties, it has obtained, it is understood, enough material to establish the opinion that Germany's rulers alone were responsible for the present financial crisis.

Premier Poincare and Minister of Finance Delastevrie also have prepared an exhaustive study on the issue of paper money by Germany which will be submitted to show that the fall in the value of the mark was a mathematical certainty under the policy pursued by the German government and that she should not be entitled to ask for a moratorium on reparations payments.

There is however, a growing tendency notably among French business men to look with favor upon the plan attributed to Great Britain to annual France's debt provided France will agre on a reduction in reparations payable by Germany.

It was emphasized in quarters close to the reparations commission today that the reports saying the commission had tentatively decided upon a moratorium for Germany were premature.

President Meuchere of the committee on guarantees had a long conference with Premier Poincare. It was strongly indicated in official circles that the committee's work in Germany had not brought about the financial reforms which officials here expected and that there was a distinct note of disappointment that the committee had not accomplished more Reports which have been received in official quarters are said to show conclusively that Germany is very prosperous commercially with labor cheaper than in any allied country.

STRIKE INTEREST IN THE VISIT OF NEFF TO DENISON

DENISON, TEXAS, July 20—Interest in the railroad strike here today centered in the announced purpose of Governor Neff to visit Denison and learn the "real facts" in the situation. In his announcement at Sulphur Springs last night Mr Neff cancelled the remainder of his political speaking program and intimated he might visit a number of rail centers to get first hand information He left Sulphur Springs this morning with short stops scheduled at Mount Vernon and Paris, and was due at Denison this afternoon. Meanwhile the situation here remained quiet.

Governor Neff declared his belief that there is nothing in the strike situation to warrant action on the part of the state, but declared Texas would preserve her sovereignty, maintain peace, protect life and keeep open her commerce. Conflicting reports as to actual conditions caused his decision to personally investigate, he said.

BOTH STRIKERS AND RAILROADS SETTLE DOWN TO TEST STRENGTH; 3,000 RAILROAD CLERKS STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 20—While 3,000 railway clerks staged a walkout on the Chesapeake and Ohio, adding their strength to the rail workers already out on practically every road in the country, both the strikers and the carriers settled down to an obstinate fight, from which grew many disorders annulliment of nearly 300 trains and the ordering out of more state troops to protect railroad property

Strike leaders on the C & O said that the walkout was practically 100 per cent effective, and at the road's headquarters in Richmond, Va 200 clerks joined a parade to a public auditorium as a farewell demonstration

At Newport News Va however the clerks had a stormy secret session and refused to strike

Although annulment of trains neared the 300 mark and B M Jewell head of the striking railway shopmen declared they would "have the railroads on their knees in two weeks" Postmaster General Work announced that 'any menace endangering delivery of mails due to the strike had passed" Where the railroads had been unable to carry out their mail contracts, it was reported to the department, other means had been provided.

Threatened curtailment of service due to shortage of coal supplies made the situation increasingly serious today The Chesapeake and Ohio, hit by today's defections is an important coal road and outlet from the West Virginia mines Another road, the Norfolk and Western, also a coal outlet from the same field, felt the effects of a clerk's strike added to the shopmen's walkout last week. The Wabash was reported from St. Louis to have but three weeks' supply of fuel on hand and several Chicago roads were said to have less than two weeks' supply.

Property of the Atlantic Coast line at Rocky Mount has been unguarded since fifteen deputies were kidnaped last Sunday, the president of the road reported. At Aberdeen a car inspector was chased away from his work by a band of men.

Other disturbances came from a dozen points. A boiler foreman was threatened with lynching if he continued work on the Santa Fe at Fresno, Cal., a car inspector at Fort Worth, Texas, was lured from home last night and flogged and four Pennsylvania employes at Monongahela, Pa., were shot while on parole duty. At Augusta, Ga., six men were arrested for interfering with the mails, following alleged attacks on car repairers.

LABOR BOARD ABANDONS EFFORT TO SETTLE STRIKE

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 20—With immediate prospects for peace in the railway strike gone, strikers and railroads today settled down to a test of strength. The statements of Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board that the board no longer was engaged in peace negotiations left the situation open to direct negotiation between strike leaders and railway chiefs, or attempts from other quarters.

Union officials remained firm in their demand that full seniority rights be restored to the 400,000 shopmen on strike, that being the rock on which peace efforts were broken. Rail heads were equally firm in their insistence that seniority rights of men now at work be recognized. There was no indication from either side of weakening from the determination to carry the point at issue

Fuel shortage was being felt by the railroads, supplies on several roads being nearly exhausted, according to officials Curtailment of train operations, due to shortage of coal and equipment, has gradually increased until 247 trains have been cancelled or are about to be cancelled, says reports from railroad centers in the west The southwest-

WARNER DIRECTS ATTENTION TO THE LETTER OF CLARK

SAYS IT IS FURTHER EVIDENCE OF POLITICAL ACTIVITY OF KLAN.

QUOTES REFERENCE TO CANDIDACY OF HENRY

Warns Voters Against What He Terms Danger of Their Success at Polls.

PARIS TEXAS, July 20—"If the people of Texas need any further proof of the fact that the Ku Klux Klan is endeavoring to govern Texas from the imperial palace in Atlanta, Ga., let them read from the letter of Grand Titan E. J Clark of Waco in resigning from the position as published in the Dallas News of today," says Harry T. Warner in a statement issued today. "The row between the imperial dragon, Dr. H. W. Evans, and Candidate Henry has resulted in this resignation. The most significant phrases in the letter of Titan Clark are these.

"Mr. Henry also stated that you in a rather threatening manner, told him if he would not agree to the forces elimination that you were returning to Atlanta and would have sealed orders within 10 days in the hands of every cyclops in Texas" What think you of that statement, free men and women of Texas—"sealed orders" from Atlanta informing the cyclops of Texas as to how the members of the klan in Texas are to be instructed to vote for a member of the United States Senate from Texas. Let those who are voting for klan candidates bear in mind that their oath of allegiance binds them to blindly follow the sealed orders sent to the cyclops from Atlanta, and we have the word of Titan Clark that Grand Dragon Evans threatened Henry with that very thing if he did not meekly submit to being eliminated as a candidate

"Then listen further to the declaration of Dragon Evans, made to Titan Clark, and get the full significance of his statement:

"We are all young and have much to learn about politics and men, so let us forget any political differences of opinion and men so that we may hope for a surprise in July which may be very gratifying to every one of us."

"Here is further illustration of what awaits the people of Texas in event the klan is successful and gains control of the government of Texas, state, county and district, as they hope to do on Saturday"

Bogart made the trip of approximately 250 miles in nine hours and 50 minutes. He made one stop, at La Junta, to replenish his gasoline supply.

More Than Forty Million Dollars Of British Gold

NEW YORK, July 20.—Gold bars valued at approximately $2,500,000 consigned to J. P. Morgan and company for the account of the British government, arrived here today on the steamship Homeric. This makes a total of more than $40,000,000 in gold received from the British treasury in the last three weeks, the proceeds from its sale presumably to be used as part payment of the $125,000,000 interest due on the British war debt to the United States in October.

Kuhn, Loeb and company also received a consignment of $500,000 in gold on the Homeric, the same to be used to balance trade accounts between this country and Great Britain.

ORLANDO MAY REVIVE THE CABINET OF ITALY

By Associated Press.

ROME, July 20.—The fall of the ministry of Premier de Facta, which resigned yesterday, appears to have been precipitated by the Catholic party, which although it had eight members in the cabinet passed over to the opposition.

Since leading socialists, communists, fascisti and liberals also voted against the de Facta cabinet, there appears to be no indication of their intention to advise the crown regarding a solution. King Victor Emmanuel early today had taken no action.

Enrico de Nicola, president of the chamber of deputies, and former Premier Orlando were mentioned in parliamentary circles as the most probable choices for the premiership.

JEWELL FORECASTS STRIKE SETTLEMENT WITHIN TWO WEEKS

PREDICTS RAILROADS WILL CAPITULATE IN THE TIME STATED.

DESCRIBES STRIKE AS MORE EFFECTIVE DAILY

Charges Railroad Stand On the Seniority Question Is Only Camouflage.

CHICAGO, July 20.—B. M. Jewell, president of the six federated shop crafts, predicted today that the railroads will capitulate and settle the strike within two weeks.

The strike is becoming more effective daily, he said, and "the roads will yield as soon as we bring them to their knees."

The railroad executives stand on the seniority question was characterized by Mr. Jewell as comouflage designed to cover up the real issue—a national adjustment board.

The executive board of the striking unions will meet this afternoon to consider an onswer to the statement issued by the railroad officials last night.

"The railroads know they cannot justify their fight against the national adjustment board before the public," Mr. Jewell said. "The board would take working rules disputes off the hands of the railroad labor board, except in cases of appeals, and leave the board free to devote practically all its time to wage questions."

The transportation act provides for the establishment of "adjustment boards" and attempts have been made several times by board members to have regional adjustment bodies established, but without success.

When the national agreement was up for revision last year, the question of a national adjustment board was broached by the unions but nothing ever came of it.

Mr. Jewell said today that the unions opposed regional boards because two or three different bodies in different sections would be trying to interpret the same national rules on various parts of the same system and nothing but confusion would result. "Regional boards," he said, "would mean war and not peace on the railroads."

McALESTER, OKLA., July 20.—A mob of several hundred negroes last night stormed the county jail here in an unsuccessful attempt to take from the authorities Levy Webster, 49 year old negro, who a few hours earlier had been arrested on a charge of murdering a 10 year old negro girl.

NET REVENUE TEXAS ROADS FOUR MONTHS GAINS $1,360,416

AUSTIN, July 20.—The railroads of Texas operated at a net revenue of $7,682,247 during the four months ending April 30, 1922, according to a report of the state railroad commission. This was an increase of $1,360,416 over the corresponding four months of last year. The operating revenues for the period this year amounted to $58,730,676 as compared with $73,012,510 for last year; operating expenses this year amounted to $51,048,431 as against $66,690,679 last year.

MELONS ARE REPORTED FINE AT CLARENDON

CLARENDON, TEXAS, July 20.—A melon club was recently organized here with J. L. Allison president.

Melons are reported doing fine and about 200 acres have been planted. One load has been sold on the local market by J. H. Goldstein. They netted him two cents per pound. Roy Hendrix, county agent, has active charge in keeping the vines sprayed for lice and insects which infest the plant.

RETAIL PRICE OF FOOD INCREASES IN PERIOD OF MONTH

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The retail cost of food to the average family in the United States increased one per cent in the month from May 15 to June 15, according to a report today by the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor. Of 43 food articles computed in the average, increases in 21 ranged from 20 per cent for potatoes to one-half of one per cent in bananas. Decreases in 18 ranged from 18 per cent for onions to one per cent for canned peas, while prices for the others remained practically stationary.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation.

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—adv.

STRINGENT REGULATIONS AGAINST "DOPE" FIENDS

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Stringent regulations to prevent dope users from obtaining narcotics on stolen forms were issued yesterday by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair.

All narcotic agents, internal revenue collectors and physicians registered under the Harrison narcotic law were instructed to report immediately the number of any stolen or lost order forms, whether used or unused.

Mother Why Do You Scold Us All The Time?

Read This Terrible Confession By a Mother Who Was Ruining the Lives of Her Children

For some time I had noticed that my two children a boy of seven and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient. I tried various punishments, even whipping, but they kept growing worse. My own nerves were all "on edge" the least thing would put me into a rage.

I was too weak to work or enjoy life, and too nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I could not sleep at night; I had an almost constant dull aching pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequently a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front part of my head. I often had severe pains across my back which made me think I had kidney trouble. I could not begin to describe all the tortures and terrible pains which I endured. Finally I went to a doctor and told him my story. After studying my case he told me I was the cause of my children's condition. He told me how the system only manufactured so much nerve force and that this vital fluid of life was stored in the nerve cells, much like electricity is stored in a storage battery and is just as quickly exhausted.

He said my own highly nervous condition had been a constant drain on the nerve force of my children, and that the constant nervous strain to which I had subjected them had wrecked their highly sensitive nervous organizations. Later all this I found out to be true because after I regained my own nervous poise, and revitalized my worn out, exhausted nerve centers, and the same was done for my children, I found them to be the nicest, sweetest children in the world—their whole dispositions entirely changed.

The above is a hypothetical case, which a physician says may well illustrate thousands which exist today. Homes are wrecked, children ruined, all through exhausted nerve force. Very few people realize the terrible physical and mental tortures often caused by a depletion of the nerve-vital fluid.

In such cases, what you need is to put more force into your nerves, and more iron into your blood. This is best accomplished by the use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerves and brain cells of man.

It also contains a newer form of iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken or injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and a nerve food.

Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually, and from the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money.

WARNER DECLARES KLAN FIERY CROSS A 'DANGER SIGNAL'

CHARGES ORGANIZATION HAS GAINED POWER TO BALK THE COURTS.

REFERS TO CASE IN THE TRAVIS COUNTY COURT

Says Governor Has No Word Of Encouragement For Judges Seeking to Enforce Law.

GRANBURY, TEXAS, July 24.—In his speech at Granbury, Harry T. Warner, candidate for governor, had this to say of the Ku Klux Klan:

"I see a warning in the fiery cross. It is a danger signal to the people of Texas who believe in liberty and constitutional government. The klan has already gained such power that it can balk the courts; and in proof of that I cite to you the experience in Travis county, where a learned and fearless district judge has sought for months to ascertain through the grand jury the truth concerning the slaying of Peeler Clayton. He has not been able to do so. The members of the klan have refused to reply to questions. They were fined and they carried their case to the high courts and were told they must answer.

"They replied to the questions propounded; but they pleaded ignorance of the slaying of Peeler Clayton and they gave no help toward apprehending the slayers.

"The adjutant general's office was advised on the day of that killing that there would be trouble at the klan hall and the acting adjutant general (the adjutant general then being absent from the office on official duty, as I have recently been informed) directed that rangers proceed to the hall for the preservation of the peace.

"Within a short time thereafter the rangers were directed not to go to the hall and they did not—and Clayton was slain.

"It is in the records that the grand jurors of Travis county complain that the oath of allegiance, which compels the shielding of klansmen by their brother subjects under heavy penalty, is more gripping than the oath taken by them as witnesses before the grand jury and that it could ascertain absolutely nothing from any of them.

"The Travis county court house is within the shadow of the capitol. Within the court room District Judge Hamilton has raised his voice in warning and he has given the law and the facts to the people of Texas in a lengthy statement. It is the voice of a learned man and of a just judge who seeks to point out the danger to the people of the state.

"If the governor reads the papers—and I presume he does—he must have seen that warning. He must have been cognizant of the great effort being made by Judge Hamilton—and by other courageous district judges over Texas—to bring whitecappers and kidnapers and those guilty of mayhem to justice—but if he is aware that numberless outrages have been perpetrated in Texas since the klan began its reign of terror he has said nothing and he has done nothing.

"He has had no word of sympathy of or encouragement for the judges who are endeavoring to have the law enforced."

The city board of equalization adjourned Wednesday afternoon after being in session for five days. During this time nearly 400 property owners appeared before the committee to ask for readjustments on their property valuations.

Members of the board thoroughly reviewed each complaint, but it was found impossible to lower the valuations to any extent, the city must have sufficient funds to meet expenses next year.

The night was also cooler than has been experienced during the past week, the minimum temperature being 77 degrees.

Reports from all points on railroads Thursday morning were to the effect that the skies were clear The rain of Wednesday afternoon amounted to practically nothing at any point being merely reported as a light sprinkle.

Senator T. W. Davidson

Senator T. W. Davidson is visiting Wichita Falls in interest of his candidacy for lieutenant governor. He has just completed a tour of the Panhandle, where he finds a strong support. The senator voted with west Texas in the mater of senatorial redistricting the state and is also a friend of the proposed west Texas A. & M.

In speaking of the lieutenant governor's race the Houston Post, July 5, very aptly says:

T. W. DAVIDSON FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

The office of lieutenant governor is one of prime importance only in the contingency of a vacancy in the office of governor, by death, resignation or impeachment.

The constitution of Texas makes the lieutenant governor president ex-officio of the senate, not because the senate needs his services, but rather because the presidency of the senate enables him to become somewhat acquainted with the business of the government should he be called to the head of it.

In some states there is no such office as lieutenant governor. In Georgia, the president of the senate chosen by the members, is in line of gubernatorial succession if a vacancy occurs, but this plan denies the people the right to fill gubernatorial vacancies. When the people of the United States choose a vice president or the people of the state a lieutenant governor, they themselves name the occupant of the executive office when a vacancy occurs.

It is true that frequently little care is exercised in nominating candidates for these offices, but the fact does not render it less important to nominate for these contingent honors only men of the highest quality, for the vacancies do occur. A vacancy has occurred five times in the presidency, and in Texas the office of governor has become vacant twice since reconstruction.

Unless a man would be fully acceptable in the presidency of the United States or in the governorship of a state, if the contingency should arise, he cannot be acceptable as vice president or as lieutenant governor.

Therefore, when the democrats of Texas come to nominate a candidate for lieutenant governor on July 22, they must as intelligent citizens apply this test to each candidate: "Would he be acceptable as governor in the event of a vacancy in that office? Is he of the character and ability that would meet the requirements of the governorship if events should call him to that high office?"

Apply that test, and having only the welfare of the state of Texas at heart, the Post, independent of all other considerations, unhesitatingly urges upon all citizens the candidacy of Senator T. W. Davidson, of Harrison county, for the office of lieutenant governor.

The Post supports Senator Davidson because if a vacancy should occur in the office of governor while he held the office of lieutenant governor, he would fill the higher office and discharge its important duties with dignity, understanding intelligence and outstanding ability.

The Post supports Senator Davidson for lieutenant governor because in its judgment he is better equipped from every point of view to fill the governorship, if the contingency should arise, than any other gentleman offering for the office.

Senator Davidson's candidacy is not based upon his residence in a particular section of the state; not upon his affiliation with any group—industrial or otherwise, not upon his affiliation with any sect. He makes no appeal to sectional, class or religious prejudice or interest.

His candidacy rests solely upon his merits as an able, courageous, honest, intelligent, untrammeled broad-minded citizen of Texas.

Senator Davidson's character will stand the test of the severest scrutiny; his record as a legislator reveals him as one who comprehends both the purposes and problems of the state government; his mental and moral equipment places him in the front ranks of capable high-minded Texans trained to the responsibilities of the public service.

If it were possible that all the gubernatorial candidates might be eliminated from the choice to be made on July 22, and the choice for governor should rest between the gentlemen now candidates for lieutenant governor, there would be no doubt as to which of the five would be selected upon the ground of fitness alone Senator Davidson would undoubtedly be the choice of the people

The electorate in choosing a candidate for lieutenant governor should vote as if they were nominating a governor, for it is never beyond the limit of possibility that the nominee for lieutenant governor may be called by events to the chief magistracy of the state.

To the Voters of Wichita Co.

Having been very closely confined to the duties of my office during the past few weeks, I have been unable to make as complete a canvass of the county as I would like to have made. I am therefore taking this method of meeting you and soliciting your vote and influence in the coming election.

The following is a short history of my education and experience:

I was born and raised in Texas and have studied Civil Engineering four years in Texas Agricultural & Mechanical College and have had Civil Engineering experience in various points in Texas since leaving college in 1915. I served in the World War as a member of the Corps of Engineers and received an honorable discharge. I have resided in Wichita county a number of years and during most of that time was employed by the Engineering Department of Wichita County Highways as Assistant County Engineer. Upon the resignation of Mr. J. D. Metcalfe, former county surveyor, I was appointed to fill the unexpired term.

Feeling that I have discharged the duties of the office in a satisfactory manner, I am now a candidate for re-election and respectfully solicit your vote and influence.

I further pledge myself, in case of re-election, to discharge the duties of office to the best of my ability. Respectfully yours,

H. J. MORGAN, JR.

Y. W. Camp at 77 Club Crowded With Visitors in the Evenings; Younger Girls Spend the Days

The Y-W camp at the 77 club is becoming a special mecca for visitors in the evening and with men welcome escorts for the girls and young women as well as their whole families, there is no lack of company at the camp.

Wednesday evening over forty guests had supper at the camp, while sixty or more enjoyed a dip in the lake. The lake was unusually attractive to the swimmers and bathers Wednesday evening with its waves whipping into real whitecaps by the wind. The house and grounds were cool and delightful, and the hot, tired visitors from town seemed to have found a real bit of summer paradise for the time being.

A pretty program was given late in the evening, after the last swimmer had come up from the little beach, and the girls had a jolly time around the camp fire.

Those who registered at the camp included: Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Mason, Charles Evans and two children, and Bristow and two children; Misses Judith Mann, Jessie Poynor, Carrie Webster, Johnston, Popewell, Adah Silverling, Lena Wilson, Florence Jackson, Mae Lea Guthrie, Irene Davidson, Vera Dodge, Hazel Bristow, Irma Durnal, Dorothy Dodd, Frances Brooks and Rhea Gardner, Misses Jewel Nix, Sudella Dailey, Thelma Wisdom, Sara Beth Boggess, Genevieve Hancock, Katheryn Trotter, Treda Montgomery, Katheryn Saunders, Fay Adams, Vivienne Ross, Mangie McPherson, Martha Warren and Leon Boling girl reserves who are spending several days at camp, Hubert Smith of Dallas and David Butler.

Going Out Today.

Fourteen girls from the City laundry group of the Rainbow club are going out to the camp Thursday evening in a truck furnished by the company and will have supper and a swim. Other groups are making reservations, and the Y-W extends a cordial invitation to all local friends of the association to visit the camp at any time. Family parties are especially invited, and reservations for meals may be made by telephoning the Y-W at any hour.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
SCAMPER SQUIRREL HAS GREEDYITIS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Madam," said Dr. Snuffles, "your son is troubled with a disease called greedyitis."

One day Mrs. Samantha Squirrel called at the office of Dr. Snuffles.

"Morning, Mrs. Squirrel," said that kindly fairy gentleman. "Nancy, set a chair for Mrs. Squirrel, please. Nick, stand her umbrella in the corner."

"You're all most kind," said Mrs. Squirrel. "And dear knows, I'm that worried a little kindness does me good."

"Worried," said Dr Snuffles, putting on his glasses and looking her over. "That's a sign of nervousness. You need some bonset tea."

"Nervous!" exclaimed Mrs. Squirrel. "Yes, I'm nervous, but it's not that's needing medicine. It's Scamper, my son. He's ailing dreadfully.

"He won't eat a single bite. I've tried him with everything from acorn soup to birch-bud pudding, but all he does is sniffle his nose and turn away."

"M, h'm'" said Dr. Sniffles. "A very serious case, indeed! I'll have to see the young gentleman."

"Oh, doctor!" cried Mrs. Squirrel. "Pray don't. He's so upset whenever I mention you he nearly has a fit. It makes him far worse.

"Well, then," said the fairy doctor kindly. "I'll have to give him absent treatment. Don't worry any more I'll cure him."

The next morning when Mrs. Squirrel was doing her marketing and the family was all away, Mr. Scamper Squirrel slid down the maple tree where he lived, looked stealthily in all directions, and then over to the underground pantry were all the goodies were kept—choice hickorynuts, dried chestnuts, and a lot of other things.

Then he proceeded to stuff out his sides.

Dr. Snuffles, the fairyman, walked over and took him by the ear. Just then Mrs. Squirrel returned.

"Madam," said Dr. Snuffles gravely, "your son is troubled with a disease called greedyitis. The best cure for it is not birch-buds but a birch rod."

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment come free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this branch, has shown the way. It was he who first produced this great remedy, Mother's Friend. Mr. C. J. Hartman, Allentown, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and didn't need a nurse; she had no time to get a doctor because I weren't very early about ten or fifteen min-

HER 7 CHILDREN INSPIRE NEW TOY INVENTIONS

Mrs. Leslie Ward Hussey and her creations, Korner Kid (above) and Running Kat (below), and the cover of the Kat-a-Korner Book.

By MARIAN HALE

Mrs. Leslie Ward Hussey of Nashville, Tenn., is mother of seven children, and the children made her the mother of an invention as well.

Every mother knows being an inventor is developing one of the many side-lines her job demands, but usually her inventions receive only local recognition.

However, the seven little Husseys banded themselves into a force of advertisers and pluggers, and they made their mother's invention famous.

Mrs. Hussey has invented some brand new toys, Running Kat and Korner Kid.

Closeups of these newcomers reveal they are snappy, clubby looking folk, bristling with personality, who have the substantial virtues of endurance and service as well.

As the name implies, Kat is a feline, inspired by the triangle. His interior is cotton, but his exterior is gray mohair—mothers will appreciate his non-sollable qualities.

His eyes are red buttons, his nose, mouth and ears are outlined with yellow silk.

The Kid is composed largely of corners, but that gives a pleasant feeling of squareness. He wears a chocolate suit and his buttons are red.

The Kat and Kid bring with them their own literary background and family tree in the shape of a quear looking book, the Kat-a-Korner Book.

This is a complete history of their lives and adventures up to the present, written by a sister of Mrs Hussey and illustrated by Mrs. Hussey, who is also an artist.

"In my brood of seven," Mrs. Hussey explains, "there were always seven sets of toys to be mended and seven broken hearts when mishaps occurred.

"I used to set arms and legs, perform the most amazing feats of amputation and plastic surgery—in fact, I did everything but gland transplantation for those toys.

"But all the time I used to wish for toys that wouldn't break. Then I exercised my ingenuity and Kat and Kid were the result.

"My children loved them. They seemed to fit easily into their arms and their imaginations. Then other children wanted them, and before I knew it, I was forced into business.

"My one hope for my product is that it will give as much relief to other mothers as it did to me, and that other children will take as much pleasure with them as mine have.

"Kat and Kid are to save work for mothers as well as entertain the children."

Johnson home in Dallas, the Near East, and drouth stricken sufferers in section near here; a $75 sewing machine to Wesley college after their building was destroyed by fire, and other such gifts. That the social service department is very active, and that there are 120 babies on the society's cradle roll, 31 of whom have life memberships.

WICHITANS IN COLORADO KEEPING COOL—MAYBE

Wichitans in Colorado are keeping cool—maybe. It's hard to believe with the mercury getting a strangle hold on the red line at 112 here in Wichita Falls. But that's what they went there for—that and to write back statistics on the number of blankets required to keep them comfortable at night to their sweltering friends here at the equator.

Anyway, the following are staying on—

Mr and Mrs J. H Gardner, Mr. and Mrs John O'Donohue and family and Mr and Mrs J. W. Stringer registered at the Antlers.

Mr and Mrs R. A. Lincoln and family, Mr and Mrs Ray Miller and Mrs. F H. Friedly and daughter at the Alta Vista.

SIBLEY-TAYLOR SOCIAL FOR BENEFIT OF LEAGUE

Editor Times:

I wish to make a correction of an article that appeared in The Times of Wednesday evening, in which it stated that the social given by the Civic league was for the benefit of the Yale Avenue Evangelical church.

I do not know who informed you of this, but will say that whoever it was must not live on this side of the city as it was frequently told in private, and announced in public, that it was to be for the benefit of the Civic league and that only, and the church did not get any part of the money that was made at the social. However, I want to state that it seemed to be a complete success in every way, but as to the statement which was attributed to me in the article of yesterday, I will state that I do not know any more perhaps than the one who wrote yesterday's article, how much they made.

As a citizen of this community, and as one interested in the civic and spiritual uplift of the community, I wish to thank the ladies of the league and all others who seemed to take such interest in the work, as I consider this next to the church work in helping to bring the community into harmony, and if we will, each one of us, take hold of the work as we should and all pull together in this one thing, as it is interdenominational, we should be able to make a much better reputation, in the town, for our community, than we have.

The W. O. W band deserves especial mention in this article as they furnished us some very excellent music for the evening for which we thank them.

Very truly yours, W D Cook, Pastor, Yale Avenue Evangelical church.

Mrs. E. C Friberg left last week for Colorado Springs to visit Mrs A. E. Anderson.

Fashion Deserts Sable for Brown Shades

Going, going and almost gone are the sable draperies of the past two seasons. Fashion has ceased mourning in black and is rejoicing in all the colorful variations of brown.

"Cinnamon," "mordore" and "rust" are three new shades. They are shown in afternoon, dinner and evening gowns in combination with autumnal reds, dull gold embroidery and gleaming bronze beads.

Evening gowns also are partial to buttercup yellows and to coral shades. Less trimming is used on these advance fall models than has been favored recently since the new lines—long and draped—make it unnecessary.

STATE OFFICES FOR BIG CANDY CONCERN ESTABLISHED HERE

Wichita Falls has been made state headquarters for distribution of the well known confection, Hoefler's Centennial chocolates, manufactured in San Francisco. The firm of Wade and Thompson, which has been in the wholesale candy business here for several years, will handle the confection and will maintain state offices and warehouse here, this city to be the distribution point for all Texas.

The Hoefler company features a five-cent individual package, of which 149 849 were sold in Wichita Falls during the first six months it was introduced here. That this city should be chosen as a state headquarters is considered another indication of the advantages that Wichita Falls offers as a distributing point.

UNIQUE WINDOW DISPLAY SHOWN AT PENNEY STORE

One of the show windows of the J. C Penney company store, at 713-715 Eighth street, contains an unique and graphic demonstration of the size and the growth of that nationwide organization The window trimmer has placed colored tacks in a large map of the United States at the points where the company have stores. From these tacks strings of the same color run to a card on which the name of the city or town and the number of the store is printed in bold type.

There is one red tack. This denotes the "mother" or first store, which was opened at Kemmerer, Wyoming, in April, 1902. The yellow tacks indicate the 312 stores that were in operation at the beginning of this year, while the blue tacks direct attention to the 59 new stores now in course of opening. The three white tacks locate the buying offices of the company at New York City, St. Louis, and St. Paul.

ICE COLD BOTTLES LYING IN YARD IS A CIRCUMSTANCE

A number of ice cold bottles of choctaw beer lying here and there in the grass near the back door of a house in the oil fields was a mere circumstance upon which Sheriff Fred K. Smith and Deputy Sheriff C. B McConnell placed a party under arrest Wednesday evening

The coming of the officers had apparently been tipped off, Sheriff Smith believes as the bottles found in the yard gave all evidence that they had been taken out of an ice box only a short time before

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way; and he that hateth reproof shall die.—Proverbs 15:10.

No man e'er felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law.
—Trumbull, in "McFingal."

POLITICAL EFFORTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN.

Self respecting American citizens vote for candidates of their own choice.

That is why efforts to deliver any particular group of American voters to any candidate have always failed, and if the spirit of Americanism survives why such efforts will always fail. It is the reason why efforts of leaders of the Ku Klux Klan to put through Klan tickets will fail. No self respecting Klansman, if he remains a self respecting American, is going to take orders from any Kleagle, Cyclops, Terror, Dragon, Goblin, Hocus Pocus, Ding a Dingus, Kum Kwat or What Not as to how he shall vote, and it is unlikely that any great number of them are going to pay any attention to the Klan tickets that are being put out for their guidance.

That leaders in the Klan are making an effort to exercise political authority is being proven in many communities in the state where lists of candidates with the Klan endorsement have been printed and circulated. In some communities these tickets cover all offices, "from constable to governor" as those about to be "naturalized" have been told. These tickets without exception have endorsed Neff for governor, Johnson or "Billie" Mayfield for lieutenant-governor, and Henry or Mayfield for senator, showing that the Klan is carrying on a statewide campaign. The effort ought to disgust all self-respecting Klansmen.

And a disgusting controversy has arisen among some of the higher-ups in the invisible Empire over the senatorial contest. Some of them are for Bob Henry but the majority appear to be for Mayfield. After it had been decided in a conference at Waco to leave the field clear in the first primary between Strong, Henry and Mayfield it appears that a movement was started in the grand palace at Atlanta, Georgia, to eliminate both Strong and Henry. Strong has already gotten out, but Bob Henry is exercising his American privilege, apparently without the consent of the Imperial Wizard, and is staying in the race.

The controversy has gotten to the public through the publication in the Dallas News of the letter of resignation of E. J. Clark of Waco, Grand Titan Province No. 3, General Counsel Realm of Texas, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, to Dr. H. W. Evans, Imperial Dragon, at Atlanta, Georgia.

It shows that while Knight Henry was going about over the state of Texas holding aloft the "fiery cross" an attempt was being made in the imperial palace at Atlanta to crucify him politically upon a double cross. It is barely possible that the same thing may have happened for some lesser offices in a number of places.

This revelation and others have come in time to show a lot of Klansmen the ridiculousness of the Klan's political efforts to permit them to rejoin the great mass of free and unfettered Americans at the ballot box.

TEXAS SOVEREIGNTY.

For a while it looked like Governor Neff would pass the buck in the matter of violence in the shopmen's strike and that if the situation got as bad as it looked like it might the federal government rather than the state government would take steps to preserve order.

Rather tardily Governor Neff is showing signs of taking whatever action is necessary on the part of the state to protect men who want to work. He has given up his speaking campaign and has gone to Denison to investigate the situation there personally. "Texas will preserve her sovereignty," he says in a public statement, "maintain her peace, protect the life of her people, keep open her commerce, enforce her laws and guarantee all her citizens their inalienable rights without the intervention of the federal government and the federal authorities have been so notified."

That is an independent and courageous program and the responsibility now rests largely upon the man who has made it public. If there are further attacks upon men who are attempting to work at Denison or anywhere else in Texas the people of the state will turn to Governor Neff to make good his pledge regardless of the political consequences.

Governor Neff has apparently recognized an issue that must be met everywhere sooner or later and that is whether the guarantees of the constitution are to be enforced or whether we are to surrender to violence and mob action which inevitably tend toward anarchy.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

EUGEN HAMY.

The subject of this appreciation is a barber in New York City. He is not only one of the best barbers I have ever known, but he is a man that anyone might be proud to have as a friend.

You no sooner sit in Hamy's chair and he begins his work on you than you feel the inspiration of his fine, clean mind and character as a man.

The manager of the hotel in which he works, told me of Hamy, remarking that he was a fine workman. And so I often go miles out of my way to have Eugen Hamy cut my hair.

One day a man came into the shop where this barber works and sat in his chair. He told briefly what he wanted. In a few weeks the same man returned to the city and hunted out the same chair. Without a word from the customer, Hamy repeated what he had requested before on his previous visit. The gentleman smiled his appreciation. It later developed that he was the manager of a hotel in another city.

You see, one never knows whom he may be serving.

Another gentleman was so impressed with the courtesy, consideration and efficiency of Hamy that he put him in the way of securing a very big barber shop managership. I hardly think that he will accept it, however, for he isn't the type of man who jumps at things quickly. One thing I am sure of, though, and that is that he will some day own his own shop—and that it will be one of the best in the country.

For real ability and solid character always walk on—and up!

The other day when my friend was cutting my hair, he told me a story. A gentleman was so pleased with the service he had gotten from Hamy that he said he would be back one week from that date. Business made it impossible, but did he forget to let Hamy know? He did not. He sent him a letter stating how sorry he was and expressing his appreciation of such service.

I looked at the letter, as my barber friend's face shown—and at the bottom was the signature of one of the business giants of America, whose name is a household word almost around the world.

What a rare exchange—service for appreciation!

JUST FOLKS

KNOWING THE BOY.

There's more to a boy than pie meat and drink,
There's more to a lad than a man would think,
You may read a book in a single day
And know the tale when it's laid away.
You may glance at a canvas wondrous fair
And see the skill of the painter there,
But you've got to stay close to the boy to know
The sort of a man that Time will grow.

Now I thought him only a youngster small,
Till he got me out for a game of ball,
I'd heard him tell of the times he'd played,
But I little dreamed of the strides he'd made
And I thrilled with pride when I came to know
That my boy could catch and my boy could throw,
And I watched him with wonder in my eyes,
Gracefully taking the fastest flies.
I said to his mother when I came in,
"Well, I've found a boy with a happy grin,
And I've discovered a lad tonight
Whose eye is keen and whose heart is right.
He has strength and courage and he can throw
The way I could in the long ago—"
"Who is this boy, who has caught your eye?"
She asked. "He is yours and mine," said I.

There's more to a boy than his hats and shoes
And the thing you buy for his hands to use,
There's more to learn than his slightest whim,
There's depth and breadth to the soul of him.
He is growing up, and unless you stay
Close at his side he will grow away,
But in all that he does if you watch to see,
You'll catch some hint of the man he'll be.

HOT WEATHER STROKES

If you are in such a run-down condition that you fail to perspire in hot weather, look out that you do not have a sunstroke.

The skin of a victim of sunstroke is hot and dry and the pulse is rapid but weak.

There will be temperature from 106 to 110 degrees with the pupils of the eyes contracted.

First aid in the cases of sunstroke consists of cooling the victim as quickly as possible. Get him into a shady spot and raise the head. Quickly remove the clothing and begin pouring cold water over him. It is best to start at the head and go down the body. The water should be poured from a height of three or four feet. Continue until the patient recovers consciousness. Frequently it is necessary to put an ice bag on the head.

Heat prostration is due to the effect of high temperature on the body. Heavy physical exertion is usually the immediate cause.

The temperature of a person exhausted by the heat rarely rises above 103 degrees and may be below normal, the face is pale, the skin cool and covered with cool perspiration, and the patient is conscious.

The first thing to do in such cases is to call a physician, but there are some things you can do before the doctor arrives. The patient should be removed to as cool a place as possible, placed flat on the back, with the head low, and a light covering thrown over his body. A mild stimulant may be given.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

SAYS CHARGES AGAINST KLAN PROVEN BY CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Times: I believe many of your readers would be interested in quotations below from Dallas News of this morning quoting correspondence between klansmen in controversy that apparently has broken out within their political ranks:

From letter resignation E. J. Clark, great titan of province No. 3, Texas, to imperial dragon at Atlanta:

This letter protests political acts, until after the election, and quotes "This organization stands primarily for fair dealing among klansmen and in order that the klansmen of Texas may know the real facts I am going to begin at the time of the Waco agreement * * to present a proper resume," etc. Then follows recital.

Quotation is made to above as verification of political activity of the klan, in that the letter clearly indicates a political agreement alleged as to the klan candidates, Mayfield, Henry and Strong in senatorial race.

Later in letter, this appears: "We are all young and have much to learn about politics and men, so let's forget any political differences of opinion and men so that we may all hope for a surprise in July which may be gratifying to all of us." * * *

I have no object in citing the above other than verification of political activity of the K. K. K., and supposedly in secret. I have indicated that there were political purposes in the klan and that the star chamber secret acts they even out-Herod Herod, in comparison with the former rather general democratic charges against the republican party being a secret star chamber group of Wall street bankers with Penrose and few others as agents.

The correspondence also verifies that citizens generally have too much political independence of thought to all take their political views as guide to votes from any cyclops, terror, wizard or other mystic poentate. Any organization alleging 100 per cent Americanism must distinguish that from 100 per cent citizenship, or admit that democratic government that began from open town meetings is not approved by them. These issues should be analyzed in straight thinking, free from religious or other prejudice. Whatever may be views of any man or group or organization, all history shows that America was founded to provide freedom of thought, religion, press and speech which is inconsistent with any extended national or state unit rule, as admitted by even individual klansmen when charges of unit rule are sometimes made against labor organizations, which in no part attempt to bind individual voters, and limit politics to persuasion only. Sincerely,

F. G. SWANSON.

COURT TAKES RECESS UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

CLARENDON, TEXAS, July 20.—District court convened in this city Monday and a venire of 141 men was selected for each case of the Upton cases. The first trial has been postponed from the first week to August 7, the second one will follow.

Court was dismissed Wednesday.

ENIGMA.

There is a quotation containing 27 letters. Indicating the letters by their numerical position in the quotation, new words have been formed.

For instance:

A city in France—2, 12, 4, 26, 15—Paris. The "P" will be the second letter in the quotation, the "a" the twelfth, the "r" the fourth, the "i" the twenty-fifth, and the "s" the fifteenth.

Can you unravel the mystery of the hidden quotation? Here are the keywords.

A city in France—2, 12, 4, 2, 15.

A valuable gem—16, 22, 3, 9, 24.

A female bird—21, 8, 13.

A city in India—14, 8, 19, 24, 13.

Bricklayers' implement—7, 10, 27.

A Mexican war general—1, 23, 10, 20, 8.

A female wild animal—11, 17, 5.

Answer to last one: A soft answer turneth away wrath. Key words: Wren, days, out, swan, Hart, Taft, raw.

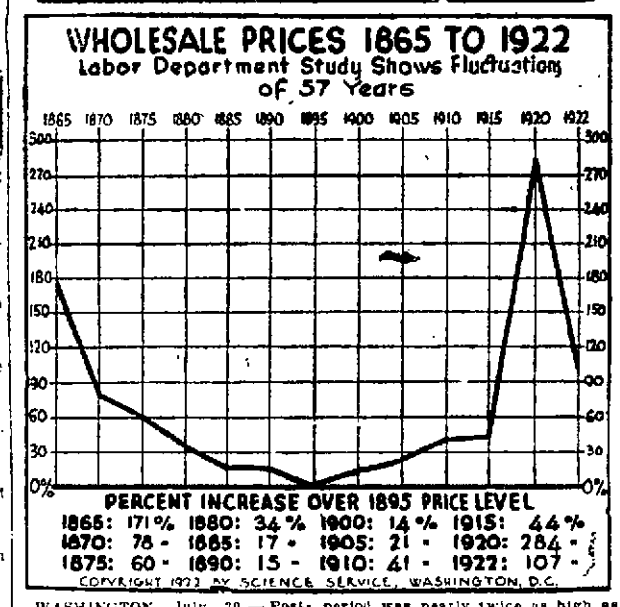
WHOLESALE PRICES 1865 TO 1922

Labor Department Study Shows Fluctuations of 57 Years



WASHINGTON, July 20.—Post-war price adjustment which has been in process throughout the United States since 1920 is being accomplished more successfully and quickly than the readjustments which followed other great conflicts in which this nation engaged, it is indicated in a study of price levels now available at the department of labor.

Consumers of all sections are enjoying wholesale prices at a level approximately 45 per cent above the period immediately preceding the war.

Following the civil war price adjustment was much slower. The readjustment period required 30 years. Prices fell gradually until 1896.

In approximately two years the present generation of business men has succeeded in reducing the level of wholesale prices from the highest point in history to within hailing distance of the level of 1915. In that year the wholesale price level was 44 per cent in excess of the level of 1895. In the next five years the level soared to a point 284 per cent in excess of 1895. At no time in the history of the United States were prices so high.

At the close of the civil war the price level was 171 per cent above the low point which was reached when adjustment became complete in 1895.

The price level of the great war period was nearly twice as high as the peak which was reached during the civil war, yet readjustment is now nearly complete, it is believed. During the last few months wholesale prices show a slight upward tendency, indicating that perhaps stabilization has been effected and left behind. Not all business men are yet ready to agree with this view. They point out that while prices of some materials are approximately the same as before the war, the level of other commodities and materials is still very high. The contention is that prices of different commodities and materials are not yet in line with each other, although the average is far lower than in 1920.

Raw materials generally are down to pre war levels. Finished products have not yet touched pre-war standards as a result, probably of the failure of labor costs to fall into line.

In comparison with the readjustment period of other countries, the United States is far in the lead, official reports indicate. In England, France and Italy consumers are paying prices that are not far removed as yet from those of 1919 and 1920.

As a result of more nearly complete readjustment the United States is in a position to compete on extremely advantageous terms with the other great exporting nations for world trade.

OUT OUR WAY

The TATTOOED ARM

"You're talking like an ass and worse—a coward!" Andrew interrupted with sudden, subdued fury. "Jerry's all right but you've forgotten Hobart's girl! Could she live down the fact that her uncle was a suicide?"

"You know what chance we have of averting what is coming!" Roger laughed in a strained falsetto which made the listening detective shudder in spite of himself and there was a quick movement within the room. "Pat had better live with the knowledge that one or both of her uncles—and her father as well—had died by their own hands than that all three of them were—!"

"Here! None of that!" Andrew cried. He had evidently thrown caution to the winds for his tones had risen to a bellow and a door opened down the hall. Miles retreated hastily toward his screening corner of the wall near the back stairs but not before the sound of a sharp struggle came from the room where the brothers were, followed by an oath and the tinkle and crash of shattered glass.

At the thought Miles sprang downstairs and darting out the window he concealed himself in the shadow of one of the great pillars. No one was in sight. Leaping from the porch he ran around the rear of the house to the other side. The pantry was dark now but the two faint patches of light from Roger's room still fell upon the sparse grass of last year's lawn. In the glow of the farther one, something glistened like a handful of diamonds.

Broken glass! He had anticipated a pistol or perhaps even a knife of some sort but not a bottle.

Throwing himself flat upon his face the detective writhed inch by inch along the ground until he was close to the scattered fragments of a bottle and then he saw among them a number of tiny white tablets. Seizing a handful of the gravel and tablets together Miles stuffed it into a pocket of his trousers and ran swiftly around the house again to the library window.

CHAPTER V

Carter was ill the following morning—a touch of sciatica—and the new houseman was forced to assume the more complex duties.

Under the kindly guidance of Pierre, he finished arranging the table for breakfast and then remembered the mail. When he had cleaned the lower hall a short time before it had not arrived, but now a small heap of letters and rolled circulars and periodicals lay upon the table and he sorted them rapidly. There was nothing for Andrew Drake nor Miss Patricia, but a formidable pile of correspondence awaited Roger and several letters were addressed to Miss Jerusha. There was only one envelope to place beside Hobart Drake's plate.

Miles noted idly that it was plain with a typed address and a New York city postmark. Then he hurried out and returned with the fruit just as the elder Miss Drake entered.

"Good morning, William." She inclined her gray head formally. "I see you have made a good beginning. Mehitabel, my maid, tells me that Carter is ill and you have assumed his duties."

The three brothers entered almost together and took their places with a perfunctory greeting to their sister. Roger seemed drooping and shaken and his drawn, young-old face paled as his glance fell on the heap of his correspondence beside his plate. He pushed it aside with a gesture of horror and Andrew remarked:

"More scientific criticism, I suppose? Throw it all in the fire old man, and don't bother your head about it!"

Patricia's entrance created a break in the tenseness of the atmosphere, and she eyed the detective in startled, confused recognition, but his expression was bland until he reached the shelter of the pantry to which her gaze had followed him, when he risked a quick nod of warning and reassurance. A slight flush suffused her face, only to exclaim in amazement and alarm:

"Daddy! What is it?"

Only Miss Drake was silent but her eyes were fixed with burning intensity upon the empurpled countenance of her youngest brother as he brought his fist, clenching his solitary letter, down violently upon the table.

"'Trouble?'" he repeated hoarsely. "'Trouble enough'—it's each man for himself when you stand with your back against the wall, and I'm going to fight!"

He strode from the room with the open letter still in his hand and they heard the library door close behind him and the key turn in the lock.

The meal ended shortly and Miles was clearing away the dishes and never when he observed that the envelope of the letter which had caused Hobart Drake such agitation was still lying where he had dropped it, on the floor beside his chair. He stooped hastily and pocketed it and then finished his work in the dining room.

He had started for the back stairs when Miss Drake asked:

"William, do you know how to drive a car?"

Had the opportunity presented itself to send the promised wire to Scottie? The detective gave an inward start.

"Yes, ma'am."

"That is fortunate, William. Mr. Hobart must be taken to the station at once."

Miles brought the car to the door to find Hobart waiting on the porch steps, watch in hand.

"Get me to the station as quick as you can."

The train was just pulling in as he drew up at the station platform. Miles noted the significant glances and nudges of the loungers as they recognized Hobart Drake and realized anew the humiliation which his young client, Miss Patrica, must have endured.

"William, do you know how to drive a car?"

His thoughts returned again to her, the innocent victim of the mysterious calamity which had overtaken her people, when after he had safely dispatched his wire to Scottie, he was bowling slowly back to the house. It did not come wholly as a surprise when he was hailed by an athletic-looking young man who stood by a low, red runabout at the side of the road.

The young man advanced and leaned confidentially over the wheel.

"My name's Richard Kemp. I'll give you five dollars if you'll take a note to the young lady up there, Miss Patricia, and see that she gets it quietly. Do you understand?"

In a quick flash of memory Miles recalled the deep blush which had mounted in the young girl's face when during their first interview at John Wells' office she mentioned the 'Kemp place,' and a light broke over him.

"I think I do, sir." He smiled slightly.

"You're all right!" Kemp clapped him on the shoulder. "There won't be any immediate answer but I'll be at—at the place she knows every evening at six, sharp. Here you are!"

He produced an envelope and a five-dollar bill, both of which Miles accepted gravely.

"Thank you, sir. I'll deliver the note myself—Goodby, sir."

He drove speedily back to the Drake estate and around to the garage to put up the car. As Miles descended from the car he beheld a battle-scarred tom-cat clawing to reach a plate of stale meat on a high shelf, and an inspiration came to him. Taking the envelope from his pocket containing the five tablets, he selected one of them and, rolling it in a small piece of meat he dropped it on the floor. With a growl the cat pounced upon it. For a moment the animal crouched and then its eyes widened with a look of almost human surprise. It rose, turned in a wavering half-circle and then all at once relaxed rather than fell upon its side with all four feet outstretched and the lurid eyes filmed.

So Roger had not been bluffing after all! As Miles replaced the envelope in his pocket his fingers came in contact with another, the one which Hobart Drake had dropped on the dining room floor. What could it have contained to drive him into such a tempest of fury?

The detective was turning it over speculatively in his hands when suddenly he utter[illegible] a sharp exclamation. He needed no magnifying glass to verify the truth; the canceled stamp had been transferred from another envelope and the postmark was a forgery. That letter had never passed through the mails!

CHAPTER VI.

It was close to midnight when a stocky figure enveloped in a heavy ulster wormed its way through a gap in the hedge and started a circuitous course about the Drake house.

A faint glimmer showed on the third floor and silhouetted against the dim patch of light appeared the profile of a man. The watcher below picked up a handful of loose gravel which he flung against the window.

Almost instantly the light was extinguished, there came the slight grating sound of a carefully raised sash, and the tiny spark of a cigaret gleamed just above the sill. A low, peculiar whistle emanated from the lips of the nocturnal visitor and the cigaret, describing a wide arc, fell upon the lawn almost at his feet as the window was softly closed once more.

In a few moments the kitchen door opened and Owen Miles in the sweater and sneakers of his nightly vigil slipped around the corner of the house.

"Scottie, old scout! I knew you'd try to get in touch with me if you could and I've been making a motion picture 'still' of myself against that window shade since nine o'clock," he whispered. "Have you learned anything?"

U. S. RECOGNITION OF MEXICO DEPENDS ON OBREGON'S ATTITUDE

WASHINGTON July 20 Recognition of the Obregon government in Mexico awaits some definite action by that government affirming the announced purposes of the present Mexican officials in relation to matters in which the United States government or American citizens are interested

This summary of the situation relative to Mexican recognition was obtained today from an authoritative spokesman for the Washington administration and there can be no doubt that it represents the views held before Adolfo de la Huerta Mexican minister of finance during a recent conference with President Harding and Secretary Hughes

A summary of the situation obtained from the same source shows that while there has been much talk of the intentions and policies of the Obregon government which would be in harmony with American views no definite action in regard to any of the questions on the part of the Mexican government have yet come to the knowledge of the state department

It was indicated that the Washington government was not insistent that General Obregon sign a treaty such as that proposed by Secretary Hughes more than a year ago specifically guaranteeing protection of legitimate American rights in Mexico If it is possible for the Mexican government to arrive at the same end in some other way through acts of congress or decisions of the Mexican supreme court there is every likelihood that American desires in the matter would be satisfied by such a course

FLAHERTY DECIDES TO JOIN SPUDDERS IN DALLAS

Former Gasser Hurler On Way From Hot Springs; Harvey Receives a Jolt

By PAUL W. LARKIN.

Pitcher Pat Flaherty is on his way from Hot Springs to join the Spudders in Dallas, according to word received here from Walter Salm Thursday. Flaherty wired the skipper Wednesday that he was ready and anxious to join the Salmites if they would make up the salary he claims is owed him by Shreveport. If not, he stated that he would leave for Cincinnati Wednesday night. Salm immediately got in touch with him over long distance and some sort of satisfactory arrangement must have been made as Pat stated he would join right away in Dallas. His decision to join comes at an opportune time since Salm is up against it for hurlers now worse than at any time this season.

Wichitans who witnessed the opening game in Dallas Tuesday claim that if any manager was in a terrible fix for hurlers, Salm was. When Ruth received his lacing Walter had absolutely nobody left to rush into the breach except the rookie, Harris. Wheeler had pitched nine innings the previous day and was in no condition to go in. Mohan had worked the two previous days and had not recovered from the effects of halting the Cats twice. Vic Keene had injured his foot on the way to the ball park and it is not known how long he will be out. He slipped one of his "dogs" under a jumper seat in the car which was taking them to the park just as Salm was pushing it down. Perdue was already out of the way and the skipper had nobody left.

Severe Blow to Harvey.

When President R. O. Harvey of the Spudders received a telegram from Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh mogul, Wednesday afternoon that Jack Hollingsworth had absolutely refused to play ball with Wichita Falls, the Spudder prexy was just about the sickest human in Wichita Falls. Coming as it did, on the heels of the Chicago story that Alex Freeman had jumped organized baseball, it is no wonder that he felt something inside of him crack. He felt that all his labors of the past month had gone for naught as practically every sinister upon whom he had counted failed him.

During a lengthy interview Mr. Harvey showed the writer a stack of telegrams which resembled a Western Union file. That the Spudder boss has left no stone unturned to land capable hurlers was sufficiently brought out by a perusal of the messages he has sent and received. Freeman was offered as much money as could possibly be offered a Class A player and was also offered transportation to and from Chicago for himself and wife. But Freeman has cooked his own goose and has barred himself from O.B. for a number of years. Mr. Harvey expects a ruling on his case from Judge Landis any day. Over a dozen messages were sent to him and President Veeck of the Chicago Cubs in an effort to land him, but they were all fruitless.

Hollingsworth's action was no more than could be expected from a man of his type. It is supposed that he refused to come since Walter Salm is pilot of the club. His rumpus with Walter dates back to the crucial Labor day series in Fort Worth and Dallas last year when he refused to go into the box though there was absolutely nothing the matter with him. It was a case of rank quitting as is well known to many local fans and every member of the Spudders who was with the club last season. Walter told him a few things which he resented, but Walter didn't tell him half enough. There is no doubt but that he would have won here had he reported and tried to pitch, but the chances are that he would have gone about his work in a half-hearted manner if he had consented to join.

Wants Holly Any Way.

Just what will become of him now is not known. He said he would retire rather than play here. President Harvey immediately wired Dreyfuss to turn him over to Wichita Falls and then let him retire. An indefinite suspension would be too good for him and things have come to a pretty pass if the player is going to dictate as to where he will play. Whether Dreyfuss will turn him over to the Spudders is a question. If he does, it will be some time before Hollingsworth will play ball again.

When Miller was sent to the Pirates the understanding was that Hollingsworth would report here immediately and that Dreyfuss would have first chance to purchase him back at the end of the season. Since he failed to come, Harvey will demand immediate payment from Dreyfuss for Miller and states that he will use the money to purchase a hurler. A telegram sent to Dreyfuss Thursday morning, however, demanded a pitcher just as good as Hollingsworth.

A deal is also under way at present to land Winters of the Philadelphia Nationals. The outcome should be known within a few days. The Phillies are in Pittsburgh at present and Dreyfuss may be able to fix things up.

A cash offer of $2,000 was made for Love of Beaumont Wednesday, but was hastily withdrawn after his exhibition in the first game with Galveston.

Big Leaguers Find New Field In Coaching College Teams

The curtain has been rung down on college baseball for the season of 1922.

The standard of play in the collegiate ranks throughout the country was exceptionally high.

With the season over, a number of players who have graduated are about to seek new fields to conquer by entering the professional ranks.

Some 50 college ball players have been signed by the majors and minors of a higher classification. In all probability a hundred more "Rah! Rah!" stars will be given a chance to show their worth in the smaller minor leagues.

College baseball has offered a new field for the veteran professional players. Big league stars, possessing the ability to impart their knowledge to the collegians, have no trouble finding lucrative positions when their playing days are over.

No one thing has done more to improve the play in college baseball than the efficient coaching that is now in vogue at many of the leading institutions.

Tesreau a Fixture.

Jack Barry, former star of the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Red Sox, coaches Holy Cross. Barry turned out a great team as usual. Three or four of his players are sure of major league trials if they care to accept them.

Jeff Tesreau, former star pitcher of the New York Giants, is still at Dartmouth. Tesreau has coached the Hanover institution for several years and seems to be a fixture on the athletic faculty.

Jack Coombs, who won fame with the Athletics, is coaching at Williams. Coombs is one of the few players who came direct from college to the majors and made good. He starred at Colby before Mack picked him up as worthy of a trial.

Carl Lundgren, former pitching star of the Chicago Cubs, is having his usual success in Illinois. He has again annexed the "Big Ten" baseball championship.

Thirty States in Role.

Ray Fisher, the old New York pitcher, is at Michigan. Bill Coughlin, who once starred at third for the Detroit Tigers, is the Lafayette coach. Jack Slattery is at Harvard.

About 30 former major league stars who have passed their usefulness as active players in the big show are now doing very well in the role of college coaches.

These players know baseball. They drill the scientific end of the game into the varsity candidates. As a result most college teams play "heads up" baseball. The college player who comes to the big league for a trial today is far better equipped mentally than the student of 10 years ago.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, July 20.—Beaumont pitching proved ineffective and the Sand Crabs batted out a double victory over the Exporters, winning the first 16 to 10 and the second 9 to 4. Hendricks hit his fourteenth home run of the season. Score:

Four Spudders Given Gate But Giants Are Overwhelmed 12 to 2

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 20.—The Spudders landed on the offerings of Russell, Seiffert and Hill in the last two innings of yesterday's game with the Giants and won easily by the score of 12 to 2. The contest was marked with continual wrangling among the players and umpires and among the players themselves. Five athletes were ejected by arbiters Sweeney and Hill during the fray. Four of them were Spudders.

Frank Kitchens and Cal Segrist were the first to be parked. They started to mix it up in the opening inning when the latter was at bat. Kitchens accused Segrist of using abusive language while he was arguing over a pitced ball and he proceeded to go after him with his mask. Both players were chased, aided by the police.

In the next chapter Russell directed a few unkind remarks at the Spudder bunch and dared anyone to come after him. Bob Bescher complied with his request, but the police got him away before any damage was done.

Later on Lovelace palpably interfered with Buddy Tanner at third base as he tried to complete a double play and when Buddy protested too vociferously Hunter Hill waved him to the bench.

Manager Salm was the last to go. He won his argument, however, before he went. The difference of opinion cropped out on what proved to be the winning run. Walter and Sweeney were the participants in the verbal battle. It came up over a bunt of Shorty Adams' which sent the winning run across the plate.

Steve Mokan had the better of the pitching argument all the way through. He showed no signs of weakening at any stage and allowed only four hits. Galloway started two innings with two of the four hits—a triple and a double, but the Spudder defense came to Mokan's rescue on both occasions.

Russell hurled airtight ball until the eighth, when a collection of infield hits won the game. Hits of the clean cut variety got him out of the way in the ninth and Seiffert, who relieved him, fared little better. Cliff Hill wound up the matinee, but the Salmites increased their total before he retired the side.

Rain interrupted the game for about 20 minutes. The box score:

Special Prizes Offered Nimrods At Weekly Shoot

Special prizes will be given to nimrods turning in high scores at the regular weekly shoot of the Wichita Falls Gun club Friday afternoon in addition to the silver spoon trophy. The shoot will be a handicap event such as has been staged the past few weeks.

That the method of determining the winners has made a hit with the shooters is attested by the fact that more have turned out for the last two shoots than at any events this year with the exception of the holiday shoot last May.

The shoot will start at 3:30 and over six stands are expected to be on hand.

Volume Savings Permit Greater Value

There are hundreds of parts in a motor car. Many companies buy all, some makers build a few, of the parts that go to make up a complete motor car. For every part they buy, a partsmaker's profit must be included in the final price

Studebaker builds every vital part. Motors, bodies, axles, transmissions, frames, tops and other parts are designed and manufactured completely from raw material to finished product in Studebaker plants, under Studebaker control and inspection.

The savings, because of tremendous volume, give the buyer extraordinary value.

Complete manufacture also explains the uniform high quality that you get in a Studebaker car, whether it is a Light-Six, a Special-Six or a Big-Six.

And uniform high quality has made Studebaker cars known everywhere for their dependable performance in owners' use.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, July 20.—After a somewhat irregular opening with prices 2 points lower to 1 point higher, the cotton market developed increased activity and strength because of unfavorable weather reports from both the eastern and western belts. Heavy rains appeared at a number of points in the eastern belt and more showers were predicted east of the Mississippi while generally fair weather seemed probable in the southwest for the next two days, attended by high temperatures. Among the early buyers were Japanese and other foreign interests and Wall street, while New Orleans and wire houses sold. October later advanced to 22.50, or 14 points above the previous close and while demand was rather slow at that figure there appeared to be surprisingly little cotton for sale.

Offerings increased toward noon on reports of rain in Texas drought sections and the market yielded under renewed local selling pressure, until October reached 22.34 or a shade under the previous close and about 16 points down from the highest of the morning. Easiness in both the stock market and in foreign exchange helped the weaker feeling in cotton at midday.

Weather details showing high temperatures at many points in Texas and confirming earlier private reports as to heavy rains in the eastern belt brought a renewal of buying in the early afternoon that rallied prices about 10 points from the lowest, October selling at 22.38 and December at 22.29.

Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, July 20.—Heavy rains in the eastern belt and a great deal of boll weevil comment from many sections of the entire belt caused moderate buying of cotton today. In the first hour of the session prices were advanced 8 to 11 points, October rising to 21.98.

The market sagged after the posting of the forecast calling for fair weather over the greater part of the belt. Some little hedge selling was felt, some by the interior and something done by the interior and something of a tendency to sag developed. At 11 o'clock October stood at 21.86 with prices two points up to two points down, compared with yesterday's finals.

For a while the market had very little trend but a new buying movement finally started on the continued dry weather and high temperatures in Texas and at 12 30 o'clock the most active months were 13 to 17 points over the final prices of yesterday. October moved up to 22.00.

The market closed steady at 8 points down to 10 points up net.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 20.—The market was mainly upward again at the opening of today's stock market. Mexican Petroleum once more assumed leadership, its initial gain of a fraction soon being increased to two points. Of her oils were mixed however. General Asphalt losing a point with further selling of Pacific Oil. Steels, coppers, tobacco and food specialties were steady to strong. Studebaker renewed professional pressure, losing one point. Foreign exchanges showed strength, excepting the Austrian rate, in which more acute weakness was shown.

Several of the low priced rails and coalers developed sudden strength at midday but industrials, including steels, gave way on a drive toward the leading motors. Studebaker, Chandler and Pierce-Arrow were most affected, the latter being said on reorganization rumors. Mexican Petroleum increased its lead to six points later. The closing was irregular with sales of approximately 700,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, July 20.—With apparent lessened prospects of any immediate settlement of the railroad strike, prices for wheat tightened up a little today during the early transactions. Some attention was given also to talk about a rally being natural in view of recent declines. Selling lacked volume. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to ½c higher, with September 1 11¾ to 1 11¾ and December 1 13¼@1 13⅜, was followed by slight gains all around and then by a moderate setback.

Subsequently gossip that export business on a large scale was in progress gave additional strength to prices. The close was firm, ½ to 1½c net higher, with September 1.13 to 1 13¾ and December 1.13¾ to 1 13¾.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening ½c@¾c higher, September 64¼@64½c, the corn market scored a little further advance before beginning to react.

Shippers reported a good demand from exporters but said business was limited to inability to get corn to offer. The close was steady at the same as yesterday's finish to ½c higher, with September 64⅞ to 64⅞@¾.

Oats started ½c off to a like advance September 35¼@36c, and later showed a trifle further upturn.

Provisions reflected the firmness of hog values.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON FURNITURE AT WEEKLY LUNCH

A talk by John W. Bradley, on the furniture business, was the chief feature of the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at the Kemp Thursday. John Singleton of Waxahachie, district governor, who was to have visited the club Thursday, was forced to postpone his visit until next Thursday.

Furniture is an evidence of civilization, Mr. Bradley told the Rotarians, pointing out that it is practically unknown among savage or semi-civilized peoples. The chief development in furniture manufacture in recent years in this country, Mr. Bradley said, has been the growing use of so-called period furniture, special designs named after the historical period represented or after the designer.

It is no longer the rule to go abroad for the best furniture, Mr. Bradley said. American manufacturers now being able to surpass those of any other country. Mr. Bradley declared that the use of furniture in this country had increased in recent years, more rapidly than the population, and he pointed out that as a factor in helping to make the home attractive, furniture is a real element of civilization.

To the VOTERS of WICHITA COUNTY

I take this means of thanking you for your kind and courteous treatment throughout this campaign.

I have tried to keep it clean and believe my opponent has done likewise. If I am elected Tax Collector of this county, it will be my one ambition to render unto the public that degree of service they are entitled to.

I believe in the democratic doctrine of rotation in office, (my opponent is asking for his third term) and will thank you for your vote on next Saturday.

I thank you,

GUY C. RALEY.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MARRS AND THE JUNIOR COLLEGE

Editor The Times.

In a letter of July 14th written by Ed R. Bentley candidate for state superintendent he made this statement "I am strictly opposed to the city college idea now being advocated by my opponent. The school people of Texas well know that S. M. N. Marrs is in sympathy with a municipal city junior college like Wichita Falls is now preparing to establish. He helped to establish the junior college at El Paso and was offered the presidency of it.

Mr. Bentley's letter to which I refer was sent to those who are especially interested in rural schools and it was meant to leave the impression that the establishment of municipal junior colleges as advocated by Mr. Marrs would result in the neglect of those in smaller schools. Such would not be the case, municipal junior colleges will mean much to our whole school system, as it will enable thousands of poor boys and girls to obtain a college education at or near home who are not able to go away to college.

If the people of Wichita Falls and Wichita county want to elect a state superintendent who is not in sympathy with our junior college which is our first attempt to offer college work in Wichita Falls Mr. Marrs is supported by a large majority of our teachers and trustees. Yours truly,

BURL BRYANT,
County Superintendent

Knights of Columbus Oath

There has been recently published in newspapers in this section and there has been circulated in Wichita Falls what has purported to be the oath of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus.

This purported oath is both fraudulent and malicious and is being published and circulated with the purpose of misinforming and misleading the people and inflaming prejudices and passions.

The actual and true oath of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus, as certified to by the Supreme Secretary and introduced in the case of the state of Minnesota versus A. M. Morrison and Garfield E. Morrison, tried at Waterville, Minn., Wednesday, July 29, 1914, an action of criminal libel involving the bogus oath, and as printed in the Congressional Record as follows:

The True Knights of Columbus Oath

"I swear to support the Constitution of the United States."

"I pledge myself, as a Catholic citizen and Knight of Columbus, to enlighten myself fully upon my duties as a citizen and to conscientiously perform such duties entirely in the interest of my country and regardless of all personal consequences. I pledge myself to do all in my power to preserve the integrity and purity of the ballot, and to promote reverence and respect for law and order. I promise to practice my religion openly and consistently but without ostentation, and to so conduct myself in public affairs, and in the exercise of public virtue as to reflect nothing but credit upon our Holy Church, to the end that she may flourish and our country prosper to the greater honor and glory of God."

(Supreme Council Seal)

"A true copy.
Attest

(Signed) Wm. J. McGinley,
Supreme Secretary."

Wherever the bogus oath has been published, attention has been called to the fact that it has been published in the Congressional Record. How it came to be published therein is fully explained by Hon. William Kettner, a member of congress from California and a 33rd degree Mason, in a speech delivered in congress and published in the Congressional Record, and which includes the report of a committee of prominent Masons of California who examined all the work, ceremonies and pledges of the Knights of Columbus. This report is as follows:

Report of Committee of Masons

October 9, 1914.

We hereby certify that by authority of the highest officer of the Knights of Columbus in the State of California, who acted under instructions from the supreme officer of the order in the United States, we were furnished a complete copy of all the work, ceremonies, and pledges used by the order, and that we carefully read, discussed and examined the same. We found that while the order is in a sense a secret association, it is not an oath-bound organization, and that its ceremonies are comprised in four degrees, which are intended to teach and inculcate principles that lie at the foundation of every great religion and every free state. Our examination of these ceremonials and obligations was made primarily for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a certain alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus, which has been printed and widely circulated, was in fact used by the order, and whether if it was not used, any oath, obligation, or pledge was used which was or would be offensive to Protestants or Masons, or those who are engaged in circulating a document of peculiar viciousness and wickedness. We find that neither the alleged oath nor any oath or pledge bearing the remotest resemblance thereto in matter, manner, spirit or purpose is used or forms a part of the ceremonies of any degree of the Knights of Columbus. The alleged oath is scurrilous, wicked and libelous, and must be the invention of an impious and venomous mind. We find that the order of Knights of Columbus, as shown by its rituals, is dedicated to the Catholic religion, charity and patriotism. There is no propaganda proposed or taught against Protestants or Masons or persons not of Catholic faith. Indeed, Protestants and Masons are not referred to directly or indirectly in the ceremonials and pledges. The creemonials of the order teaches a high and noble patriotism, instills a love of country, inculcates a reverence for law and order, urges the conscientious and unselfish performance of civic duty, and holds up the constitution of our country as the richest and most precious possession of a knight of the order. We can find nothing in the entire ceremonials of the order that to our minds could be objected to by any person.

MOTLEY HEWES FLINT,
Thirty-third Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California.

DANA REID WELLER,
Thirty-second Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California.

WM. RHODES HERVEY,
Thirty-third Degree Past Master and Master of Scottish Rite Lodge.

SAMUEL E. BURKE,
Thirty-second Degree Past Master and Inspector of Masonic District

There is little that can be added to this plain reproduction of the pledge itself and to the testimony of the eminent Masons of high degree. It ought to be unnecessary to have to print this. It is done in the hope that any who may have been misled and misinformed will know the truth and that better understanding which will promote Christian brotherhood and genuine Americanism will prevail.

To the Men and Women Voters of Wichita Falls

Owing to the fact that I have been busily engaged in the discharge of the duties of the office of the Justice of Peace, I have been unable to personally see all of the voters of this precinct to present to them my candidacy for re-election.

During my tenure of office I have strived to the utmost of my ability to discharge the duties of that office impartially and to the end that justice may be done. I feel that I have given general satisfaction to the public and that my service has been of some benefit to the community at large.

It is impossible for me to see all of the voters of the precinct and to personally place before each one just what I have done and how I have discharged the duties of that office. I respectfully refer the voters to any attorney in the city who has practiced before me and I am willing for such attorney to advise the voter just how and in what manner I have discharged my duties.

I hope to be favored with your vote for relection and I especially solicit the vote of the women for this precinct and I pledge one and all, if re-elected, that I will give my entire time and attention to the office and do everything in my power to see that the laws are imparially enforced.

Yours very respectfully,
R. V. GWINN.

M'CULLOUGH SPEAKS IN THOMAS' BEHALF, SCORES OPPONENTS

Several hundred voters Wednesday night heard Judge Tom McCullough of Dallas speak in behalf of the candidacy of Cullen F. Thomas for the United States senate.

Mr Weeks, who introduced the first speaker, gave a brief outline of the campaign thus far, and spoke of the undue influence of the straw vote on the real voting. He said that he thought Mayfield would get 90 per cent of the Ku Klux votes, but would still fail to be elected. He said he believed Culberson was the only other man with a chance against Thomas, and that Culberson, he thought, would not be elected His reason was that although six years ago some of the greatest men in the state spoke for Mr Culberson, only one was supporting him on the stump now. Mr Weeks said that Culberson's health had not permitted him to make a speech in the senate for the last twelve years, nor even to return to Texas. Mr Weeks also said he thought Ousley was a man of good character, but that Thomas was better qualified He then introduced Judge Spencer

Spencer said that Mr Thomas has been fighting for the right for the last 20 years, and briefly summarized his activities for prohibition He said Mr. Thomas had wanted to speak here Wednesday night, but when unable to do so, had asked Judge Tom McCullough to speak for him

Mr. McCullough said that he had been here once when he was a boy, and could compliment Wichita Falls greatly on its rapid growth He spoke of the stirring history now being made, and briefly summarized the world's happenings. The speaker said that the whole world is depending on America, and that the result largely depends on the voting Saturday. He believed that after having helped destroy the old world, America cannot leave it to its own resources, and that this country must cease its policy of isolation He said he stood with Thomas, who will never desert Woodrow Wilson and the league of nations He said there can be no business revival until this country reestablishes the policy of internationalism in trade and politics The judge said that the problems which concern the voters Saturday are national rather than state and international rather than national that if America doesn't go abroad for altruistic reasons, she must go for financial and commercial reasons He reminded the voters that Saturday is their last 'say' in international affairs for six years

Judge McCullough said that Thomas was a great power for both prohibition and woman's suffrage He said that when Ousley was working on a Galveston newspaper Hawley ran for the senate on the republican ticket and Ousley gave him all his support. When Hawley was elected, it was hailed, so the speaker said, as a great republican victory and Ousley was toasted and dined as the man who broke the 'solid south" He said that when Mr. Ousley was working on a Fort Worth newspaper, he was paid $5,000 by the brewery interests to go to Georgia and dig up some 'blind tigers and 'moonshine stills and come back here and tell Texas that prohibition would never work

The speaker next turned his attention to Mr Ousley's stand on the tariff question He said that Ousley stood for a protective tariff which would be a hardship, rather than a benefit to the farmers He gave as an example a season of a bumper corn crop, he says that corn would have to sell for fifteen and ten cents a bushel or be burned for fuel, tariff or no tariff Or if the corn crop failed, he said the price of corn would be extra high because of the tariff on imported corn, and the farmer buying seed corn would have to pay the tariff He sought to prove that the tariff would have no effect on cotton because the cotton which is imported is not even of the same kind as that which is raised in this country

"The republicans are working to get this tariff so Kirby can get something out of his vast lumber holdings and abolish South American competition," the speaker said "The rates on cotton advocated by Ousley are from 10 to 90 per cent higher than the infamous Payne Aldrich bill."

He next turned his attention to Ferguson, who 'offers light wines and beers as a pancea for the world's troubles He incidentally, only incidentally of course, wants to destroy the federal reserve system, which has saved seven out of every ten banks from closing their doors during the last year." Here he was applauded. The speaker said that the federal reserve system enabled this country to finance the war and the allies' war. He said that he does not approve of the management of the federal reserve and advocates a change to a policy of internationalism He said he would like to see a farmer on the federal reserve board to advise them and act as a "go-between" for the people and the board He said Ferguson was a banker until he went broke, and now he is fighting the bankers. He quoted a man of prominence, whose name he did not call, as saying that 'if he had lost confidence in God and man, in his country and the law, then he would vote for Jim Ferguson"

The speaker said that Bob Henry is going up and down the land with a fiery cross in one hand and his platform in the other

"If Henry should be elected, he'd be in an awful predicament, every time a vote was called for he'd have to have the vote held up until he could wire Atlanta to find out how the 'grand goblin' wanted him to vote He will be the first man in the field—when a retreat is ordered "Mayfield is harping on one note, rate regulation. Everybody agrees with Mayfield, but the colonel can do nothing if elected, because that is in the hands of a federal board and not the senate. If Mayfield really wants to serve his state he should stay where he is, on the railway commission, and keep his contract to the people '

The speaker said that Ousley and Henry both fought prohibition and woman's suffrage, and will not be able to make the women forget it. He says that the New York Times says that the greatest fight in history between the wets and drys is to be this summer, when an attempt will be made to elect 100 senators in 14 states on the wet plank He said Texas, where Ferguson is running, is one of the 14 states

The remainder of Judge McCullough's speech was an attack upon Ousley and Mayfield as "wets" and a summary of Thomas' work for prohibition He concluded by saying that Thomas will fight to protect prohibition, suffrage, the federal reserve, and to get the United States into the league of nations

ELECTRA INAUGURATES A CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

ELECTRA, TEXAS, July 20.—A general cleanup of Electra is being planned by Mayor Wm. Calvert, as a part of his idea for protecting the health of the citizens. All weeds have been ordered out and a force of men are at work ridding the community of these Property owners are asked to cut weeds on their premises and remove all rubbish.

Failure to receive three car loads of 10-inch pipe is holding up the work of laying a double line from the city lake four and one-half miles north of town to the standpipe. When this is completed and the new filter plant is at work, Mayor Calvert plans to dig a large 'sump" just below the dam and lay drainage tile into this from the entire frontage of the dam. Investigations show that 100,000 gallons of water are lost daily as a result of percolating underneath the structure. Engineers believe that practically all of this can be saved

The wastage of natural gas in the country is about half the production.
